APPENDIX: JOINT MERGER PLAN APPROVED BY THE BOARDS OF DIRECTORS OF CAIXABANK, S.A., AND BANKIA, S.A.

To the Boards of Directors of Bankia, S.A., and CaixaBank, S.A.

1. INTRODUCTION

For the purposes of section 34 of Law 3/2009 of 3 April on structural changes to companies ("Law on Structural Changes to Companies") and articles 340 and 349 of the Companies Register Regulation, and in accordance with our own appointment to the position of independent expert by Ms Isabel Querol Sancho, registrar in charge of Companies Register Number VI of Valencia, in proceeding number E87/29, we would like to present you with our independent expert's report on the joint merger plan ("Joint Merger Plan") between CaixaBank, S.A. ("CaixaBank" or the "Absorbing Company"), and Bankia, S.A. ("Bankia" and/or the "Absorbed Company" and, together with CaixaBank, the "Entities"), approved by the Entities' Boards of Directors on 17 September 2020, and on the net assets to be transferred to the Absorbing Company.

The Joint Merger Plan was approved and signed by all the directors of the Entities, in accordance with section 30 et seqq. of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies. Since 18 September 2020 it has been posted on the corporate websites of the Entities, where it can be downloaded and printed out. It is anticipated that the Joint Merger Plan will be submitted for approval to the Entities' respective general shareholders' meetings, to be held between 1 and 3 December 2020.

In accordance with section 34.1, paragraph two, this report is the sole independent expert's report on the Joint Merger Plan.

2. OBJECTIVES AND SCOPE OF OUR WORK

According to our orders from the Companies Register of Valencia and applicable legislation, the scope of our work covered a review of the Joint Merger Plan appended to this report and all the documents made available to us in connection with the Joint Merger Plan, to enable us to reach conclusions on the following points:

- Whether or not the exchange ratio between shares in the Absorbed Company and shares in the Absorbing Company is justified; what methods were used by the Entities' directors to establish the exchange ratio; whether the methods they used were suitable, including mention of the resulting figures and any special valuation difficulties; and
- Whether net equity contributed by the Absorbed Company is at least equal to the capital increase the Absorbing Company is to carry out.

We must mention that our work is independent. Therefore, it does not entail any recommendation for the Entities' Boards of Directors or general shareholders' meetings or for third parties about the position they should take in connection with the planned merger or other transactions by the Entities, nor about the effects of the planned merger or other transactions for the Entities. Our work does not aim to analyse the appropriateness of the Entities' business strategies or their rationale.

3. DESCRIPTION OF THE JOINT MERGER PLAN

3.1. IDENTIFICATION OF THE ENTITIES INVOLVED

The Entities' identifying particulars are as follows:

- Absorbing Company:
 - CaixaBank is a Spanish credit entity with its registered office at calle Pintor Sorolla, 2-4, Valencia, and tax ID number A-08663619. It is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia in Volume 10,370, Folio 1, Page V-178,351, and in the Special Register of the Bank of Spain under number 2100.
 - CaixaBank's share capital is 5,981,438,031 euros, which is fully subscribed and paid up and divided into 5,981,438,031 ordinary registered shares, each of a nominal value of one euro, belonging to the same class and series, represented by book entries, fully subscribed and paid up and admitted to trading on the Barcelona, Bilbao, Madrid and Valencia stock exchanges via the Spanish Stock Exchange Interconnection System ("Continuous Market"). The book-entry records are made and held by Sociedad de Gestión de los Sistemas de Registro, Compensación y Liquidación de Valores, S.A. Unipersonal ("Iberclear").
- Absorbed Company:
 - Bankia is a Spanish credit entity with its registered office at calle Pintor Sorolla, 8, Valencia, and tax ID number A-14010342. It is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia in Volume 9341, Book 6623, Folio 104, Page V-17,274, and in the Special Register of the Bank of Spain under number 2038.
 - Bankia's share capital is 3,069,522,105 euros, which is fully subscribed and paid up and divided into 3,069,522,105 ordinary registered shares, each of a nominal value of one euro, belonging to the same class and series, represented by book entries, fully subscribed and paid up and admitted to trading on the Barcelona, Bilbao, Madrid and Valencia stock exchanges via the Continuous Market. The book-entry records are made and held by Iberclear.

3.2. CONTEXT AND PURPOSE OF THE MERGER

As reasoned in the Joint Merger Plan, the merger is proposed within a market context in which the banking sector is experiencing a process of restructuring and gradual concentration, caused by banks' need to seek more advantageous scales to increase their efficiency and optimise their operating costs. Globally speaking, the banking business is undergoing a digital transformation, and interest margins have been falling lower and lower as a result of negative interest rates and the economy's deleveraging process. Furthermore, the Entities' directors anticipate that the worldwide COVID-19 pandemic will keep interest rates at very low or even negative levels for longer than expected, while causing a rise in defaulting and bad debt provisions, impacting on the profitability of banks.

The Entities' Boards of Directors see the proposed merger as a strategic opportunity for both banks, because it is a strong strategic move in the right direction and because it will enable them to better tackle the situation caused by the pandemic and the above-mentioned structural challenges facing Eurozone banks, and particularly because it will enable them to reach a greater number of clients with an optimised cost structure and jointly undertake digital transformation investments more efficiently.

After the merger, the combined entity will be a Spanish market leader thanks to its volume of assets, loans and deposits, and its position as a provider of long-term savings products (including investment funds, pension funds and life insurance) will be strengthened greatly. In addition, the entities' office networks and areas of operation complement each other well, so the resulting entity will have a better-balanced geographical distribution.

3.3. STRUCTURE OF THE TRANSACTION

In the terms stated in sections 22 et seqq. of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, subject to approval by the Entities' General Meetings of shareholders, the merger will be carried out through Bankia's being absorbed into CaixaBank, with the termination of Bankia via dissolution without liquidation and the transfer of Bankia's assets and liabilities as a whole to CaixaBank, which will acquire all of Bankia's rights and obligations by universal succession. As a result of the merger, the shareholders of Bankia will receive shares in CaixaBank in exchange for their Bankia shares.

3.4. EXCHANGE RATIO

The exchange ratio for the shares in CaixaBank and Bankia has been found based on the actual value of their net assets. The exchange ratio will be 0.6845 newly issued shares in CaixaBank (each of a nominal value of one euro, and of the same characteristics and with the same rights as the existing shares in CaixaBank at the time of their issue) for every share in Bankia in circulation turned in for exchange (of a nominal value of one euro).

No complementary cash payment as provided for in section 25 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies is anticipated. Nevertheless, the Entities have decided to establish a mechanism to ensure that the number of CaixaBank shares to be delivered to Bankia shareholders in exchange for their Bankia shares is a whole number.

CaixaBank's Audit and Control Committee and Bankia's Audit and Control Committee both met before their respective Board of Directors' meetings where the Joint Merger Plan was written, and at that time they reported favourably on the merger's financial conditions, accounting impact and exchange equation.

Moreover, Morgan Stanley & Co. International plc ("Morgan Stanley") and RothschildCo España, S.A. ("Rothschild & Co"), each issued a fairness opinion on 17 September 2020, addressed respectively to the CaixaBank Board of Directors and the Bankia Board of Directors, confirming that the proposed exchange ratio is fair for their respective shareholders from a financial point of view.

For the purposes of section 33 and related sections of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the Entities' Boards of Directors have each drafted a report on the Joint Merger Plan where they explain and justify the plan, in accordance with the sections cited above, in its legal and economic aspects, referring especially to the exchange ratio and any special valuation difficulties.

3.5. EXCHANGE METHOD. CAPITAL INCREASE

As established in the Joint Merger Plan, CaixaBank will exchange Bankia shares for newly issued ordinary shares.

To this end, CaixaBank will increase its share capital by the sum necessary to cater for the exchange of Bankia shares, by issuing and releasing into circulation the number of new ordinary shares required, each having a nominal value of one euro, of the same class and series as the shares currently in circulation, represented as book entries. In accordance with section 304.2 of the Law on Corporate Enterprises, no pre-emptive rights will be provided for, and the subscription of new shares will be reserved for the holders of Bankia shares.

The Bankia shares in circulation are eligible for exchange, except for shares disqualified under section 26 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, i.e., any Bankia shares owned by CaixaBank (including any Bankia shares CaixaBank acquires through the odd-lot dealer) and Bankia's treasury shares, which will be redeemed. On the date of the Joint Merger Plan, CaixaBank did not hold any shares in Bankia, and Bankia held 31,963,300 direct treasury shares.

As a consequence of absorbing Bankia's assets and liabilities, considering the total number of Bankia shares in circulation on the date of the Joint Merger Plan that qualify for exchange (i.e., 3,069,522,105 shares, each with a nominal value of one euro, less 31,963,300 treasury shares, which will remain treasury shares until the merger is complete and therefore will not be exchanged), the maximum number of shares CaixaBank has to issue to make the merger exchange at the agreed-to exchange ratio is 2,079,209,002. These will be ordinary shares in CaixaBank, each having a nominal value of one euro. This means a capital increase of a maximum nominal sum of 2,079,209,002 euros.

The capital increase may eventually be smaller, depending on Bankia's treasury shares and the number of Bankia shares CaixaBank holds at the time of the merger.

The nominal value of the new shares in the Absorbing Company and their issue premium will be paid out in full in the form of the contribution of Bankia's net assets to CaixaBank, whereupon CaixaBank will take on Bankia's rights and obligations by universal succession.

CaixaBank will apply to have the new shares admitted to trading on the Barcelona, Bilbao, Madrid and Valencia stock exchanges via the Continuous Market.

3.6. MERGER BALANCE SHEET/HALF-YEARLY FINANCIAL STATEMENT. ANNUAL ACCOUNTS. VALUATION OF THE ASSETS AND LIABILITIES OF BANKIA SUBJECT TO TRANSFER

Section 4.1 of the Joint Merger Plan specifies that the following shall be regarded as the merger balance sheets for the purposes of section 36.1 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies:

- For CaixaBank, the balance sheet as of 30 June 2020, drawn up by the CaixaBank Board of Directors at their meeting of 24 September 2020 and duly audited by CaixaBank's account auditor (the "Merger Balance Sheet"). The Merger Balance Sheet will be submitted for approval to the General Meeting of shareholders in CaixaBank scheduled to decide on the merger, before the merger resolution is introduced.
- In the case of Bankia, the merger balance sheet will be replaced by the audited half-yearly financial statement as of 30 June 2020 required by securities market legislation, which was made public on 31 July 2020, as called for by section 36.3 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies (the "Half-yearly Financial Statement").

Also, for the purposes of section 31.10 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, section 4.2 of the Joint Merger Plan states that the conditions under which the merger is to take place were determined in the light of the Entities' annual accounts for the financial year ending on 31 December 2019, as the merging entities' financial year is the same as the calendar year.

For the purposes of section 31.9 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, section 4.3 of the Joint Merger Plan states that the magnitudes of Bankia's assets and liabilities are those shown on the Half-yearly Financial Statement, but even so the assets and liabilities transferred from Bankia to CaixaBank will be entered onto CaixaBank's books at their fair value as of the effective date of the merger for accounting purposes.

3.7. EFFECTIVE DATE FOR ACCOUNTING PURPOSES AND FOR NEW SHAREHOLDERS' SHARING IN THE COMPANY PROFITS

It has been established that the effective date of the merger for accounting purposes is the date after the merger's approval by the Entities' General Meetings of shareholders when the last of the conditions precedent in section 17 of the Joint Merger Plan is met, as that is the date on which the Absorbing Company is considered to have taken control of the Absorbed Company pursuant to the applicable regulations.

Furthermore, for the purposes of section 31.6 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, section 5 of the Joint Merger Plan states that the new shares CaixaBank delivers to Bankia shareholders in the merger exchange are to be ordinary shares of the same single class and series as the shares currently in circulation, with the same rights as of the date when the notarial instrument of merger is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia. These rights include the right to a share of the company profits under the same terms as the holders of the CaixaBank shares already in circulation on that date.

3.8. ANCILLARY OBLIGATIONS, SPECIAL RIGHTS AND SECURITIES OTHER THAN THOSE REPRESENTING CAPITAL

According to the Joint Merger Plan, there are no ancillary obligations, privileged special shares or persons assigned special rights other than the rights of standard share ownership, at either CaixaBank or Bankia. Therefore, no special rights have to be granted, and no options of any sort need to be offered.

The CaixaBank shares delivered to Bankia shareholders as a result of the merger do not give their holders any special rights whatsoever.

3.9. CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

The effectiveness of the merger is subject to the conditions precedent listed below:

- The Minister for Economic Affairs and Digital Transformation must give authorisation for Bankia's absorption by CaixaBank in accordance with additional provision twelve of Law 10/2014 of 26 June on the regulation, supervision and solvency of credit entities.
- The National Commission on Markets and Competition must authorise the financial concentration resulting from the merger in accordance with Law 15/2007 of 3 July on the defence of competition and related regulations.
- The General Directorate of Insurances and Pension Funds, the National Securities Market Commission and the Bank of Spain must not have objected to the fact that the merger will result in CaixaBank's acquiring significant holdings in companies under their supervision.

The absence of objection may be either expressly notified or owing to the expiration of the maximum regulation term for objections without any objection having been made.

- The European Central Bank must not have objected to the acquisition of significant holdings in CaixaBank as a result of the merger, either expressly notified or owing to the expiration of the maximum regulation term for objections without any objection having been made.
- Supervisory authorities (particularly including the European Central Bank, the Bank of Spain, the General Directorate of Insurances and Pension Funds and the National Securities Market Commission) must have either authorised or not objected to the fact that those who will be CaixaBank shareholders after the merger will have acquired significant indirect holdings in companies in which CaixaBank has an interest and which are subject to said supervisory entities' supervision.

4. VALUATION METHODS USED TO FIND THE EXCHANGE RATIO

4.1. MAIN VALUATION METHOD APPLIED BY THE ENTITIES' BOARDS OF DIRECTORS

In accordance with section 25 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the exchange ratio was found on the basis of the real value of the net assets of CaixaBank and Bankia.

To find the real value of the Entities' net equity in order to set the exchange ratio, the Boards of Directors applied a reference method based on listed share price. Use of the listed share price as a valuation criterion is justified by the fact that it is the criterion most commonly applied in mergers of listed companies with suitable free float and liquidity, and it is the method usually preferred for finding actual value in the case of listed shares (for example, in section 504.2 of the Law on Corporate Enterprises, when finding the fair value of the shares to issue in capital increases where pre-emptive rights are excluded, the fair value is presumed to be the share's price on the stock exchange unless there are grounded reasons for believing otherwise).

At market close on 3 September 2020 (the last trading session before the public announcement that the Entities were engaged in merger negotiations), the price of CaixaBank shares was 1.816 euros per share, and the price of Bankia shares, 1.036 euros per share. This yielded an implicit exchange equation of 0.5704 shares in CaixaBank for each share in Bankia.

On 17 September 2020, the Entities' Boards of Directors resolved to propose to their respective General Meetings of shareholders, through the signing of the Joint Merger Plan, a merger based on an exchange ratio of 0.6845 shares in CaixaBank per share in Bankia. This implies a 20% premium over the implicit exchange equation of 0.5704 (indicated in the paragraph above) based on share prices for 3 September 2020.

The resulting entity's synergy-creating ability was a factor in setting this exchange ratio. The exchange ratio was also set on the basis of the Entities' undertaking not to declare payment of any dividends or make any other kind of distribution of their share capital or reserves or reimburse any part of their share capital until the merger is complete.

As commented previously, the Joint Merger Plan reports that CaixaBank engaged the services of Morgan Stanley as its financial advisor for the merger process. On 17 September 2020 Morgan Stanley gave a fairness opinion at the request of the CaixaBank Board of Directors for the Board's exclusive use. The fairness opinion concluded that, on that date, based on the elements, restrictions and assumptions contained in the opinion, the agreed-to exchange ratio was fair for CaixaBank and its shareholders from a financial point of view.

Bankia engaged Rothschild & Co as its financial advisor in the merger process. On 17 September 2020 Rothschild & Co gave a fairness opinion at the request of the Bankia Board of Directors for the Board's exclusive use. The fairness opinion concluded that, on that date, based on the elements, restrictions and assumptions contained in the opinion, the proposed exchange ratio was fair for Bankia's shareholders from a financial point of view and in light of current market conditions and the regulatory climate.

4.2. OTHER METHODS USED BY THE ENTITIES' BOARDS OF DIRECTORS

4.2.1. OTHER METHODS USED BY CAIXABANK'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The CaixaBank Board of Directors used other valuation methods that it deemed pertinent to analyse the fairness of the agreed-to exchange ratio from CaixaBank's standpoint, and it observed that the exchange equation the Entities agreed to falls within the range yielded by the application of these methods.

The methods it used are the following:

- Historical share prices

This method mitigates the potential impact of volatility on share prices at a given time, because it takes into consideration various time horizons. Several mean prices for periods prior to 3 September 2020 (the last trading session before the public announcement that the Entities were engaged in merger negotiations) were used as references for these purposes.

- Analysts' target prices

This method is based on target prices given in analysts' reports issued after each of the Entities' second-quarter results for 2020 were made public (28 July 2020 for Bankia and 31 July 2020 for CaixaBank) and up to 3 September 2020, the date of the last trading session before the public announcement of negotiations with a view to the Entities' merger.

- Market multiples

The basis for this method is that it combines market multiples for comparable listed entities and independent financial analysts' expectations regarding their future profitability with CaixaBank and Bankia's net asset values. For this purpose, a regression analysis was performed based on the ratio of the price multiples over tangible net book value (equity, not including minority interests, other issued capital instruments entered as capital and reserves and intangible assets) and the expected return on net book value for comparable listed entities, using three-year profitability projections. This regression analysis was also applied on the basis of equity securities adjusted for the Entities' capital surplus or deficit.

Market multiple valuation was also performed following the WEV (warranted equity valuation) method, which is based on applying the theoretical intrinsic valuation multiple that relates the return on tangible net book value with the cost of capital.

- Premiums paid in previous transactions

Lastly, premiums paid on previous transactions were also analysed. The premiums were taken from examples drawn from the banking industry and other economic sectors in Spain and in the region of Europe, the Middle East and Africa (EMEA) where the full price was paid in shares in the absorbing company.

4.2.2. OTHER METHODS USED BY BANKIA'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Bankia Board of Directors used other valuation methods that it deemed pertinent from Bankia's standpoint, which led it to conclude that the proposed exchange ratio lies within the range found by applying the methods used.

The methods used are the following:

- Share price / Historic market capitalisation

Using this method, the proposed exchange ratio was compared with the exchange ratios found by taking the mean of CaixaBank and Bankia's respective share prices for different time periods before 3 September 2020 (last month, last three months and last six months).

- Share analysts' target price

This method consisted in comparing the implicit valuation of one Bankia share in the proposed exchange equation with the range of target prices assigned to Bankia shares by equity analyst firms tracking the value.

- Valuation multiples of comparable listed companies

Using this methodology, the valuation multiples implicit in the Entities' transaction were compared to the multiples implicit in the share prices of comparable listed entities. The multiples used were Price-to-Book Value and the Price-to-Earnings Ratio.

- Premiums on other transactions

Lastly, the premium implicit in the proposed exchange ratio was compared to the premiums observed in previous transactions in the Spanish market over the last seven years.

- Long-term financial projections for the Entities' businesses, based on both internal and external information.

- Other information considered to be of interest for our work.
- Analysis and review of the information stated above, bearing in mind our work's objective and context.
- Meetings with the Entities' management and their respective auditors and different financial advisors, to gather additional information we regarded as useful for doing our work.
- Analysis, review and contrast of the valuation methods that the Entities' Boards of Directors used to determine the exchange ratio established in the Joint Merger Plan.
- Analysis of whether the real value of the Absorbed Company's net equity is at least equivalent to the Absorbing Company's capital increase. To do this, we applied generally accepted valuation methods widely used to value financial institutions under a framework of business continuity, bearing in mind the context and characteristics of the proposed merger.
- Securing a signed letter from the management of each of the Entities confirming that, to the best of their knowledge, we had been given all the information considered significant to prepare our independent expert's report and that no major events had taken place between the Joint Merger Plan's date and the date of this report that might substantially alter the agreed-to exchange ratio and therefore affect our conclusions.

6. SPECIAL VALUATION DIFFICULTIES

All valuation work entails subjective observations and requires estimates to be made concerning future events that are uncertain on the valuation date. It is generally accepted that no valuation method offers entirely accurate, indisputable results, and that instead the results consist in ranges within which the value in question may be reasonably expected to lie.

Moreover, the fair value of the Entities depends largely on the future development of certain variables affecting the Entities' results and capital, such as interest rates, bad debt and the degree to which anticipated synergies associated with the merger are achieved. These variables may eventually not turn out to be exactly as estimated on the date of this report and therefore could affect the Entities' value.

The scope of our work did not include reviewing or auditing the Entities' situation in regard to accounting, taxes, legal affairs, labour, the environment, operations or anything else. Therefore, any risks stemming from such situations have not been factored into our work or the conclusions we have reached.

Our work was based on information provided mainly by the Entities and on information drawn from public sources, on the assumption that this information is full and correct. BDO does not expressly or implicitly assume or guarantee the truthfulness, accuracy and integrity of the said information that we received and used to do our work.

7. CONCLUSIONS

In accordance with the information on which our work was based and the procedures we applied, and considering the difficulties described in section 6 above, it is our consideration that:

- The exchange ratio proposed by the Entities' Boards of Directors is justified, and the valuation methods used and the values they yield are suitable; and
- The real value of the net assets contributed by Bankia (to be terminated) is at least equal to the maximum value of the capital increase of CaixaBank (Absorbing Company) called for in the Joint Merger Plan.

Our conclusion must be interpreted within the context of the scope of our verifications. Our conclusion leads to no liability beyond the liability related with the scope of our opinion.

This report was prepared exclusively to comply with section 34 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies and other applicable legislation. Therefore, it is not suitable for any other purpose and must not be used for any other purpose.

1. INTRODUCTION

For the purposes of articles 30, 31 and other relevant articles of Law 3/2009 of 3 April on structural changes to companies ("Law on Structural Changes to Companies"), the members of the Boards of Directors of CaixaBank, S.A. ("CaixaBank") and Bankia, S.A. ("Bankia") draft this joint merger plan ("Joint Merger Plan") with the information required by article 31 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies. This Joint Merger Plan will be submitted for approval by the General Shareholders' Meetings of CaixaBank and Bankia in accordance with article 40 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies.

The content of this Joint Merger Plan is as follows:

1.1 RATIONALE FOR THE MERGER

In recent years, the banking sector is experimenting a process of restructuring and progressive concentration, caused by the need for banks to improve their efficiency and optimise operating costs in a climate of long-term reduction of interest margins as a result of negative interest rates and the economy's deleveraging process.

Although the current global COVID-19 pandemic has reaffirmed the fundamental role of banks in supporting families and companies, which in many cases have seen their sources of income drastically cut, this crisis will cause interest rates to remain at very low levels, or even negative, for a period longer than expected. It will also cause a rise in defaulting and bad debt provisions, negatively impacting on the profitability of banks. This backdrop requires seeking larger scales in the banking sector.

In recent years, CaixaBank and Bankia have positioned themselves as the second and fourth biggest credit entities in Spain, respectively, in terms of assets, while completing their conversion from savings to stock-listed banks, updating and improving their corporate governance, and adapting to the new regulatory framework arising out of Basel III, implemented in the EU with the Capital Requirements and Bank Resolution Directives. However, the current pandemic, along with other structural challenges faced by Eurozone banks (digital transformation, low profitability in the climate of interest rates described, etc.), make the proposed CaixaBank and Bankia merger a strategic opportunity for both entities. Thus, as stated by the Single Supervisory Mechanism on numerous occasions, a merger such as the one projected will enable tackling the above-mentioned structural challenges from a stronger position. In particular, it will enable reaching a greater number of clients with an optimised cost structure and allow the two entities to jointly make digital transformation investments, which will allow making new investments in a more efficient manner.

The merger of the intervening companies is of great strategic value given (i) the strong brand recognition of both entities, (ii) their very sound liquidity structure, (iii) their consolidated solvency, and (iv) the opportunity represented by the fostering of concentration operations through the publication of proposed guidelines by the European Central Bank, which clears up certain major uncertainties on concentration operations regarding the capital requirements applicable to the resulting entity. Furthermore, the retail banking that forms the core activity of both entities, having a notable share of the retail mortgage sector and a significant volume of small and medium enterprise business, means an optimal cultural fit between the two entities.

Following the merger, the resulting company will be a leader in the Spanish market in terms of volume of assets, loans and deposits, and its position as a provider of long-term saving products (including investment funds, pension funds and life insurance) will be notably bolstered. Furthermore, the office network of the two entities and their areas of operation complement each other well. Thus, the resulting company will have a more balanced geographical distribution.

As a result, the combined entity will be notably more efficient in its role of facilitating the flow of credit to families and companies and supporting the development of small and medium enterprises.

1.2 STRUCTURE OF THE TRANSACTION

The legal structure chosen for integrating the businesses of CaixaBank and Bankia is a merger in accordance with articles 22 and following of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies.

The proposed merger will occur by Bankia (the absorbed company) being merged into CaixaBank (the absorbing company) with the termination, via dissolution without liquidation, of Bankia, and the transfer, by universal succession, of Bankia's assets and liabilities as a whole to CaixaBank, which will acquire all the rights and obligations of Bankia. As a result of the merger, the shareholders of Bankia will receive shares in CaixaBank in exchange for their Bankia shares.

3. MERGER EXCHANGE

3.1 EXCHANGE RATIO

The exchange ratio of the shares of the merging entities, determined based on the actual value of the assets and liabilities of CaixaBank and Bankia, will be of 0.6845 newly issued shares in CaixaBank, each of a nominal value of one euro, of the same characteristics and with the same rights as the existing shares in CaixaBank at the time of their issue, for every share (one) in Bankia, of a nominal value of one euro.

The complementary cash payment in accordance with article 25 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies is not provided for (without prejudice to the implementation of a mechanism for facilitating the exchange in the terms of section 3.4).

CaixaBank's Audit and Control Committee, in its meeting held prior to the Board of Director's meeting that drafted this Joint Merger Plan, approved the financial conditions of the merger, its accounting impact and the exchange ratio, in accordance with article 14.1.b(xx) of the Consolidated Text of the Board of Directors' Regulations of CaixaBank.

Morgan Stanley & Co. International, CaixaBank's financial advisor in the merger, issued on 17 September 2020 a fairness opinion to CaixaBank's Board of Directors concluding that, on that date and based on the elements, restrictions and assumptions in the opinion, the exchange ratio proposed was fair for CaixaBank and its shareholders from a financial point of view.

Bankia's Audit and Control Committee, in its meeting held prior to the meeting of the Board of Directors of Bankia that drafted this Joint Merger Plan, approved the financial conditions of the merger, its accounting impact and the exchange ratio, in accordance with article 14.10 of the Regulation of the Audit and Control Committee of Bankia.

RothschildCo España, S.A., Bankia's financial advisor in the merger, issued on 17 September 2020 a fairness opinion to Bankia's Board of Directors concluding that, on that date and based on the elements, restrictions and assumptions in the opinion, the exchange ratio proposed was fair for the shareholders of Bankia from a financial point of view and in light of the current market conditions and regulatory climate.

In accordance with article 33 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the Board of Directors of CaixaBank and Bankia will each draft a report explaining and justifying in detail this Joint Merger Plan with regard to its legal and financial aspects, with particular reference to the share exchange ratio (including the methodologies used to determine it), the special valuation difficulties and the implications of the merger for the shareholders of the merging companies and their creditors and employees.

The proposed exchange ratio will be subject to verification by an independent expert appointed by the Companies Register of Valencia in accordance with article 34 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies (as described in section 13).

3.2 METHOD FOR EFFECTING THE EXCHANGE RATIO

CaixaBank will effect the exchange for Bankia shares, in accordance with the exchange ratio established in section 3.1, via newly issued ordinary shares.

To this end, CaixaBank will increase its share capital by the sum necessary to cater for the exchange of Bankia shares via the issue and putting into circulation of the number of new ordinary shares required, each of a nominal value of one euro, of the same class and series as those currently in circulation, represented as book entries. In accordance with article 304.2 of the Law on Corporate Enterprises, no pre-emptive rights will be provided for, and the subscription of the shares will be reserved for holders of Bankia shares.

In application of article 26 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, under no circumstances will any Bankia shares owned by CaixaBank or any shares that Bankia holds as treasury shares be exchanged. These shares are to be cancelled. On the date of this Joint Merger Plan, CaixaBank does not own any shares in Bankia, and Bankia has 31,963,300 own shares as direct treasury shares.

Taking into account the total number of Bankia shares in circulation on the date of this Joint Merger Plan that could be exchanged (i.e. 3,069,522,105 shares, each with a nominal value of one euro, less 31,963,300 own shares, which will be kept as treasury shares until the coming into effect of the merger and therefore will not be exchanged), the maximum number of CaixaBank shares to be issued to effect the merger exchange is 2,079,209,002 ordinary shares in CaixaBank, each of a nominal value of one euro. This represents a capital increase of a maximum nominal sum of 2,079,209,002 euros. The sum of the capital increase may be lower depending on the treasury shares held by Bankia or any shares in Bankia that CaixaBank, where applicable, holds when the merger becomes effective.

CaixaBank will request admission to trading for the new shares issued to effect the merger exchange on the Barcelona, Bilbao, Madrid and Valencia stock exchanges, for contracting via the Spanish Stock Exchange Interconnection System (Continuous Market), and will perform all required legal procedures.

3.3 SHARE EXCHANGE PROCEDURE

The exchange of Bankia shares for CaixaBank shares will take place once:

- (A) the merger has been agreed upon by the General Shareholders' Meetings of both companies;
- (B) the conditions precedent in section 17 of this Joint Merger Plan have been met;
- (C) the corresponding prospectus has been registered with the Spanish National Securities Market Commission ("CNMV") or, alternatively, the equivalent documentation referred to in article 1, sections 4.g) and 5.f), respectively, of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 of 14 June 2017, on the prospectus to be published when securities are offered to the public or admitted to trading on a regulated market, has been presented; and

(D) the notarial instrument of merger has been registered with the Companies Register of Valencia.

The exchange will take place from the date specified in the notice of exchange to be published on the corporate webpages of the merged companies and, as other relevant information, on the website of the CNMV. For this purpose, a financial entity will be appointed to act as an exchange agent that will be specified in the above-mentioned notices.

The exchange of Bankia shares for CaixaBank shares will take place in Iberclear via the participating entities as the depositories of the shares, as per the procedures established for the book-entry system in accordance with Royal Decree 878/2015 of 2 October on the clearing, settlement and registration of marketable securities represented by book entries, the regulation of the central securities depository and central counterparty entities, the transparency requirements for the issue of securities admitted to trading on an official secondary market; and with the application of the terms of article 117 of the Law on Corporate Enterprises.

As a result of the merger, Bankia shares will be cancelled.

3.4 MECHANISM FOR FACILITATING THE EXCHANGE

Bankia's shareholders who own a number of shares that, in accordance with the agreed upon exchange ratio, do not entitle receiving a whole number of CaixaBank shares, may acquire or transfer shares so that the resulting shares they hold entitle them, in accordance with the exchange ratio, to receive a whole number of CaixaBank shares.

Without prejudice to this, the merging companies have established a mechanism to facilitate Bankia's shareholders receiving whole numbers of CaixaBank shares in virtue of the exchange.

This mechanism entails appointing a financial entity as an odd-lot dealer, that will act as the counterparty for the purchase of share excesses and shortfalls. Thus, any Bankia shareholder which, in accordance with the established exchange ratio and taking into account the number of Bankia held shares, is not entitled to receive a whole number of CaixaBank shares or is entitled to receive a whole number of CaixaBank shares but has an additional number of Bankia shares insufficient to have the right to receive an additional CaixaBank share, may transfer these surplus Bankia shares to the odd-lot dealer, which will pay the shareholders in cash for the value of these shares at the price specified in the notice of exchange.

Except in the case of express instructions in writing to the contrary, it is understood that Bankia's shareholders may make use of this fraction purchase system without having to send instructions to the depository institution of their shares, which will inform them of the result of the operation once concluded.

4. MERGER BALANCE SHEET/HALF-YEARLY FINANCIAL STATEMENT, ACCOUNTS AND VALUATION OF THE ASSETS AND LIABILITIES OF BANKIA SUBJECT TO TRANSFER

4.1 MERGER BALANCE SHEET/HALF-YEARLY FINANCIAL STATEMENT

In the case of CaixaBank, for the purposes of article 36.1 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the half-yearly financial statement as of 30 June 2020 will be considered the merger balance sheet. In the case of Bankia, the merger balance sheet will be replaced by the half-yearly financial statement as of 30

June 2020 required by the legislation governing the stock market and made public by Bankia in accordance with article 36.3 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies.

4.2 ACCOUNTS

For the purposes of article 31.10 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, it is hereby stated that the annual accounts of the merging companies for the financial year ending on 31 December 2019 have been taken into account.

These annual accounts, the merger balance sheet of CaixaBank and the half-yearly financial statement as of 30 June 2020 of Bankia referred to in section 4.1 will be available on the webpages of CaixaBank and Bankia (www.caixabank.com and www.bankia.com respectively) for browsing, downloading and printing prior to the publication of the call for the General Shareholders' Meetings that are to resolve on the merger.

4.3 VALUATION OF THE ASSETS AND LIABILITIES OF BANKIA SUBJECT TO TRANSFER

As a result of the merger of Bankia into CaixaBank, Bankia will be dissolved without liquidation, and all of its assets and liabilities will be transferred as a whole to CaixaBank.

For the purposes of article 31.9 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, it is hereby stated that the magnitudes of the assets and liabilities of Bankia are those resulting from the half-yearly financial statement as of 30 June 2020, without prejudice to these assets and liabilities transferred by Bankia to CaixaBank being entered into the accounting of CaixaBank at their fair value from the effective date of the merger for accounting purposes in accordance with section 6 of this Joint Merger Plan.

5. DATE FROM WHICH THE EXCHANGED SHARES GIVE RIGHT TO A SHARE OF THE EARNINGS OF CAIXABANK

For the purposes of article 31.6 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the new shares issued by CaixaBank to effect the merger exchange will be ordinary shares of the same class and series as the shares currently in circulation, entitling the holders to the same rights from the date the notarial instrument of merger is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia.

These new shares will entitle holders, from the date the notarial instrument of merger is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia, to a share of the earnings under the same conditions as the other holders of CaixaBank's shares in circulation on this date.

6. EFFECTIVE DATE FOR ACCOUNTING PURPOSES

The date from which the operations of the absorbed company are considered to be performed for accounting purposes by the absorbing company is the date resulting from the application of rule 44 of Circular 4/2017 of 27 November of the Bank of Spain, on credit entities, on the rules on public and reserved financial information and financial statement templates, the Recognition and Measurement Rule 19 of the Spanish National Chart of Accounts approved by Royal Decree 1514/2007 of 16 November, and the International Financial Reporting Standard 3.

In accordance with these regulations in force on the date of this Joint Merger Plan, the effective date of the merger for accounting purposes will be the date on which, once the merger has been agreed upon by the General Shareholders' Meetings of CaixaBank and Bankia, the last of the conditions precedent to which the effectiveness of the merger is subject to in accordance with section 17 is met, as this is the date on which the absorbing company is considered to have acquired control of the absorbed company in accordance with the terms referred to in the above-mentioned regulations.

7. LABOUR CONTRIBUTIONS OR ANCILLARY OBLIGATIONS

For the purposes of article 31.3 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, neither in CaixaBank nor in Bankia have the shareholders made any labour contributions, nor are there any ancillary obligations. Thus, no compensation needs to be paid for this item.

8. SPECIAL RIGHTS AND SECURITIES OTHER THAN THOSE REPRESENTING CAPITAL

For the purposes of article 31.4 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, neither in CaixaBank nor in Bankia are there any ancillary obligations, privileged special shares or persons that have assigned special rights other than those arising from standard share ownership. Thus, no special right needs to be granted, nor does any type of option need to be offered.

The CaixaBank shares provided to Bankia's shareholders as a result of the merger do not give the holders of these shares any special right.

With respect to the outstanding issues of Perpetual Non-Cumulative Contingent Convertible Additional Tier 1 Preferred Securities of Bankia (issued on 19 September 2018 for the sum of €500,000,000 under ISIN code XS1880365975 and on 18 July 2017 for the sum of €750,000,000 under ISIN code XS1645651909), following the merger, CaixaBank will assume the position of Bankia and succeed it as the issuing entity of these securities in accordance with their terms and conditions. Thus, once the notarial instrument of merger has been registered with the Companies Register of Valencia, all terms applicable to Bankia in the above-mentioned issues will apply to CaixaBank. As a result, following the merger, the above-mentioned securities will become convertible into ordinary shares of CaixaBank (instead of Bankia), without prejudice to any adjustments that must be made to the floor prices in accordance with the terms of issue and the applicable regulations.

With regard to the rights of the beneficiaries (employees, managers and directors) of the Bankia share remuneration agreements, when the merger becomes effective, CaixaBank will take the place of Bankia as the entity bound by these remuneration agreements. Rights on Bankia's shares will be automatically converted into rights on CaixaBank's shares in accordance with the terms resulting from the exchange ratio established in this Joint Merger Plan. All mentions of Bankia in the aforementioned remuneration agreements will be applicable to CaixaBank from the date the notarial instrument of merger is registered with the Companies Register of Valencia.

9. BENEFITS GRANTED TO DIRECTORS AND INDEPENDENT EXPERTS

No benefit will be granted to the directors of either merging entity. Nor will any benefit be granted to any independent expert intervening in the merger.

10. TAX TREATMENT

In accordance with article 89.1 of Law 27/2014 of 27 November on corporate tax, the proposed merger is subject to the tax treatment established in chapter VII of title VII and additional provision 2 of the aforementioned law and article 45, paragraph I.B.10, of Royal Legislative Decree 1/1993 of 24 September approving the consolidated text of the transfer tax and stamp duty. This tax treatment allows for companies to restructure while applying the concept of tax neutrality, provided that these operations occur owing to valid economic reasons, such as those set out in this Joint Merger Plan.

Within three months of registration of the notarial instrument of merger, the transaction will be communicated to the Spanish Tax Agency in accordance with articles 48 and 49 of the Corporate Tax Regulation approved by Royal Decree 634/2015 of 10 July.

11. AMENDMENTS TO THE ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION AND ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION OF THE RESULTING COMPANY

The merger will not require amending the Articles of Association of the absorbing company except with regard to the sum of the share capital as a result of the capital increase required to effect the merger exchange.

CaixaBank's current Articles of Association are published on its corporate website (www.caixabank.com), a copy of which is attached as the Appendix to this Joint Merger Plan for the purposes of article 31.8 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies.

12. CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER FOR EMPLOYMENT, IMPACT ON THE GENDER BALANCE OF THE GOVERNING BODIES AND EFFECT ON CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

12.1 POSSIBLE CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER FOR EMPLOYMENT

In accordance with article 44 of the consolidated text of the Law on the Workers' Statute, approved by Royal Legislative Decree 2/2015 of 23 October governing business transfers, CaixaBank will assume the labour rights and obligations of Bankia's employees.

The merging entities will comply with their reporting obligations and, if required, their consultation obligations with the workers' legal representatives of each entity, in accordance with labour regulations. In addition, the proposed merger will be notified to the appropriate relevant public entities, in particular to the Social Security General Treasury.

Following the merger, the combined entity will analyse the overlaps, duplications and economies of scale arising from the merger, with no decision having been made at this time regarding measures of a labour nature that will have to be adopted to integrate the workforces as a result of the merger. In any case, the integration of the workforces will take place observing the legal procedures applicable in each case and especially with regard to the reporting obligations and consultation obligations with the workers' representatives, having meetings and negotiating with them as is required to integrate the two workforces with the most agreement possible between the parties.

12.2 IMPACT ON THE GENDER BALANCE OF THE GOVERNING BODIES

It is expected that the merger will cause changes to the makeup of the governing body of the absorbing company that will affect the gender balance of its structure.

In all cases, the structure proposed will comply with recommendation 14 of the Code of Good Governance, with the percentage of female directors being over 30%.

12.3 EFFECT OF THE MERGER ON CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

It is not expected that CaixaBank's current corporate social responsibility policy will change as a result of the merger proposed in this Joint Merger Plan.

13. APPOINTMENT OF INDEPENDENT EXPERT

In accordance with the second paragraph of article 34.1 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, the Boards of Directors of CaixaBank and Bankia will request that the Companies Register of Valencia appoints an independent expert to draft a sole report on this Joint Merger Plan and on the assets and liabilities transferred from Bankia to CaixaBank as a result of the merger, with the scope set out in article 34.3 of the aforementioned law.

14. COMPLIANCE WITH THE DISCLOSURE AND REPORTING OBLIGATIONS OF THE BOARDS OF DIRECTORS OF CAIXABANK AND BANKIA WITH REGARD TO THE JOINT MERGER PLAN

In observance of article 32 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies, this Joint Merger Plan will be published on the webpages of CaixaBank and Bankia. The fact that the Joint Merger Plan has been published on the webpages will be published in the Official Gazette of the Companies Register, explicitly stating the webpages of CaixaBank (www.caixabank.com) and Bankia (www.bankia.com) and the date of publication.

The publication on the webpages of CaixaBank and Bankia and the publication of this fact in the Official Gazette of the Companies Register will occur at least one month before the date set for the General Shareholders' Meetings to resolve on the merger. The Joint Merger Plan will remain on the webpages for at least the term required by article 32 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies.

In accordance with article 33 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies and as mentioned above, the Boards of Directors of CaixaBank and Bankia will each draft a report, in the timeframe required, explaining and justifying in detail the Joint Merger Plan with regard to its legal and financial aspects, with particular reference to the share exchange ratio, the special valuation difficulties that may exist and the implications of the merger for the shareholders of the merging companies and their creditors and employees.

These reports and the other documents mentioned in article 39 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies will be published, and will be downloadable and printable, on the webpages of CaixaBank and Bankia prior to the publication of the call for the General Shareholders' Meetings that are to resolve on the merger.

Lastly, the Joint Merger Plan will be submitted for approval by the General Shareholders' Meetings of CaixaBank and Bankia within six months following the date of this Joint Merger Plan in accordance with article 30.3 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies. The General Shareholders' Meetings to resolve on the merger are planned to take place in the last quarter of 2020.

15. INTERIM PERIOD UNTIL THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE MERGER

CaixaBank and Bankia assume a special undertaking of good faith that obliges them to make their best endeavours to achieve the objectives established in this Joint Merger Plan, undertaking not to perform any act or enter into any contract, agreement or transaction that could compromise the achievement of these objectives.

In particular, from the date of this Joint Merger Plan until the date of the registration of the notarial instrument of merger with the Companies Register of Valencia ("Interim Period"), CaixaBank and Bankia undertake that their respective governing bodies, management teams and managers, and of the companies in their respective groups, will comply with article 30.2 of the Law on Structural Changes to Companies and, in particular:

- (A) carry out their activity in the ordinary course of business in accordance with their usual practices, observing sound and prudent management procedures in these practices with the diligence of an orderly businessman, in compliance of the applicable regulations and in a manner largely coherent and consistent with their usual practices, without making any major changes to their strategy and management; and
- (B) not perform any act or enter into any contract that could compromise the approval or coming into force of the merger or substantially amend its bases, terms and conditions by significantly altering the balance sheets of the entities, and thus affect the exchange ratio of the shares described in section 3.1.

In particular, CaixaBank and Bankia undertake during the Interim Period not to declare the payment of any final or interim dividend, charged to reserves or results, in cash or in kind, or to make any other distribution on their share capital or reserves or the reimbursement of any part of their share capital.

For the sake of clarity, actions undertaken owing to legal requirements or required by competent supervisory bodies or regulators will not constitute the non-performance of the undertakings assumed under this section 15 of the Joint Merger Plan.

16.1.2 Status of the new Board members

It is hereby stated, with regard to the status of the new members which, if applicable, will come onto the Board of Directors of CaixaBank, that it is foreseen that:

- (A) Mr Goirigolzarri will have the status of executive director, in accordance with the provisions cited in sections 16.1.3 et seq.;

The new Board of Directors of CaixaBank, once constituted, will appoint, in its first meeting, Mr Goirigolzarri as Chair, subject to a report from the Appointments Committee in accordance with articles 35 and 40 of CaixaBank's Articles of Association.

The Chair, who will have the status of an executive director, will be responsible for the areas of Board Secretariat, external communication, institutional relations and internal audit (without prejudice to the Audit and Control Committee being responsible for this area). The Chair will carry out the other duties assigned to him in the Articles of Association and the current regulations, and will coordinate with the Board of Directors the operation of the Committees for a better performance of the supervisory function.

The current Chief Executive Officer will be the first executive of CaixaBank, reporting directly to the Board of Directors, being responsible for all areas not specified in the previous paragraph, and also chairing the management committee.

16.1.4 Implementation of the renewal of the Board of Directors

The governance structure and system set out in the above sections have been the subject of a favourable preliminary assessment by the governing bodies of CaixaBank and Bankia, which have considered them appropriate in light of the rationale for the merger set out in section 1 of this Joint Merger Plan. This preliminary assessment must be confirmed, if appropriate, by CaixaBank's Appointments Committee in accordance with the provisions of article 40.5 of its Articles of Association for the purposes of, if deemed appropriate, proposing to the Board of Directors the appointment of the new independent directors and reporting on the proposed appointments of the other Board members, all in accordance with articles 529-decies and 529-duodecies.4 h) of the Law on Corporate Enterprises.

For the purposes of the foregoing, the merging entities want the suitability of the new Board members to be approved prior to the registration of the merger so that these new members can take up their positions in the first meeting of the Board of Directors held following the merger coming to force. Thus, the Board of Directors of CaixaBank undertakes to begin the required procedure so that the proposed appointment of the new Board members is completed prior to the calling of the General Shareholders' Meeting of CaixaBank that is to vote on the approval of this Joint Merger Plan and, as the case may be, the proposed appointments.

If any person to be appointed as a member of the Board of Directors does not obtain the suitability approval mentioned above, does not accept their appointment or for any other reason their appointment cannot be made effective, the corresponding vacancy will be covered by a candidate of the same origin, either via co-optation by the Board of Directors following the Shareholders' Meeting or via appointment in a subsequent Shareholders' Meeting.

16.2 ASSUMING OF THE CONTRACTS AND POWERS OF ATTORNEY OF THE ABSORBED COMPANY

To continue all operations and activities of the absorbed company without interruption, the merger will leave ratified and confirmed, in application of the principle of universal succession, the agreements, covenants and contracts entered into by Bankia and the powers of attorney granted by Bankia (that when the merger comes into force are duly registered with the Companies Register and have not been revoked, in accordance with the list attached to the notarial instrument of merger), via which Bankia carries out the acts making up its financial activity and operations, and the powers of attorney for litigation granted by Bankia in accordance with the list also attached to the notarial instrument of merger, all of which will remain in force with the same scope at that time, all being assumed as its own by CaixaBank. In virtue of the foregoing, all persons granted these powers of attorney for business operations or litigation to act on behalf of Bankia may continue, following the coming into force of the merger, to exercise the same powers on behalf of CaixaBank as if these powers had been directly granted by CaixaBank with the same extent and scope with which they were granted, as powers of attorney granted by CaixaBank where they have not been revoked or replaced.

Any other power of attorney granted to agents of Bankia not included in the lists attached to the notarial instrument of merger are excluded from this ratification and confirmation.

Once the legal integration via the execution and registration of the notarial instrument of merger has occurred, the powers of attorney will be replaced progressively and as required in accordance with the authorisations and the powers of attorney policy of the resulting entity.
