CaixaBank boosts the tourism sector with €2,500 million in financing in the first half of 2026

• The bank closes more than 2,300 financing operations, with a growth of 1.2% compared to the same period last year

• CaixaBank consolidates its support for tourist accommodation through its specialised Hotels & Tourism line, which aims to promote the development of the market through a model of proximity and high specialisation

August 2026

During the first half of 2026, CaixaBank formalised more than 2,300 credit operations linked to tourist accommodation companies throughout Spain, 1.2% more than in the same period of the previous year. The Balearic Islands, the Canary Islands, Madrid, Catalonia and Andalusia accounted for most of the funding granted.

The resources mobilised were mainly aimed at the renovation and updating of establishments, the acquisition of hotel assets, initiatives related to innovation and sustainability, as well as covering the working capital and operational needs of the companies.

At the end of the first half of 2026, the loan portfolio managed by CaixaBank Hotels & Tourism exceeded €10,500 million and the division provides services to more than 13,800 customers in the field of tourist accommodation. To this end, the bank has a specialised team of more than 40 professionals focused exclusively on the hotel sector and a network of around 2,300 business advisory experts distributed in more than 200 centres and specialised offices for companies and SMEs.

CaixaBank has granted more than €2,500 million in financing to the hotel and tourist accommodation sector in Spain during the first six months of 2026 through its specialised Hotels & Tourism division. The figure reinforces the bank's position as one of the main financial partners in an industry that maintains a high rate of investment and transformation.

The activity carried out in recent years consolidates a trajectory of sustained growth. Between 2020 and 2025, the entity channelled nearly 19,000 million euros to the tourism sector, accompanying both expansion projects and plans to modernise and improve competitiveness.

The evolution of financing reflects the weight that tourism maintains within Spanish business activity and CaixaBank's commitment to the development of the sector. In addition to access to financing, the entity provides support to companies in their transformation processes and adaptation to new market challenges.

CaixaBank Hotels&Turism, firm support for the sector

Thanks to its specialisation in the tourism sector through CaixaBank Hotels & Tourism, the bank has the capacity to detect and adapt quickly to the needs of this type of company. Last year, the bank boosted the sector with €4,300 million in financing, 8.5% more than the previous year.

Through CaixaBank Hotels & Tourism, the bank makes available to the hotel market a range of differential products and services to help optimise the profitability of its business and simplify its daily activity, taking into account the needs of each type: hotels, tourist accommodation and campsites. It provides service through a team of professionals specialised in the hotel market and the more than 2,300 managers of the entity who are experts in business advice.

In addition, CaixaBank Hotels & Tourism has a special sensitivity to sustainable projects, such as those that incorporate improvements in energy efficiency or water and waste management; and with other issues of social impact such as accessibility, the integration of local communities or the use of zero-km products. The entity promotes initiatives such as the ReUtilízame program, which channels surplus material from hotel companies to social entities; or Incorpora, which facilitates the access of people at risk of exclusion to the world of work.

Hotels & Tourism has agreements with more than 40 hotel federations and associations, and periodically organizes meetings with leading businessmen in the sector throughout Spain. The financial institution also participates in the main international tourism fairs (Fitur, WTM, ITB); in the most relevant sectoral events held in our country and is also a member of UN Tourism, the United Nations agency responsible for promoting responsible, sustainable and accessible tourism for all.
